CITY ITEMS.

Reil's HEAD .- With over 5,000 beef cattle on the parket this week, and 4,200 of the number were yarded in Forty-fourth street, for the great Wednesday market, it is not to be wondered that cattle boken and drovers should have said yesterday that they had the worst market for owners of cattle they Led appelenced in many years. It was difficult to sell choice bullocks, good enough for prize autmals at any fol cattle show, at prices equivalent to 9c. P Ib for the mest, and many cattle that would make good refalling market beef were sold at nothing over 8c. a pound, while the poorer sorts sold at 6 37c. . Ib, and

There is a good deal of complaint about the prices butchers are charging for beef while cattle are running so low. In pullisation it may be beene in mind that hides and fat at present rule low, and coarse ment lower, and as it is not fashionable in this city to eat anything coarser than rib roasts and tender steaks the demand for this part of the bullock runs the price Ligh, almost as high as when cattle were nearly double what they are now. Those who are disposed to buy beef by the quarter can obtain it at present at about half the price usually paid at butchers stalls for Choice cuts.

QUARANTINE AFFAIRS,-There were no arrivals with any sick on board yesterday, and no deaths in the Hospitals, where the patients are doing well, and the most of them rapidly recovering. The cold weather operates favorably upon most of the sick, the yellow fever patients in particular; and should it continue, we may reasonably expect the total departure of this eni imic from Quarantine for the present season.

On Wednesday evening, the military held an election for the office of Lieut. Colonel of the regiment, ther vacant. Major Chas. G. Waterbury was the only candidate, and was elected unanimously. As a vacancy was occasioned by his promotion, an election took place for Major, and to this position O. F. Went worth was promoted. A salute was then fired in honor of the new officers, and a bonfire lighted, which created the impression in New-York that the Staten Islanders had attacked the soldiers and were being repelled, and that the new Hospitals had been fired.

A large marquee for the accommodation of the sick of the regiment has been erected just behind the encampment, which is comfortably provided with all the ne cesary appurtenances of an apothecary's shop. So far, however, it has not been brought into use. regiment is greatly delighted by learning that on Wedpoday next it is to be relieved and some other regiment substituted. The men have, apparently, become tired of camp life, and do not desire to be again called to perform such monotonous duty as they are at present performing.

The Ray Tompkin's Guards, a volunteer target

company, proceeded on their annual excursion yesterday, at which there was some good shooting. Mr. Stephen Massett makes his first bow to-night at

ACCIDENT TO MR. WILLIAM M. EVARTS .- William M. Evarts, esq., one of the leading members of the New-York bar, while riding on horseback near his country residence in Winsor, Vt., was on Saturday last thrown from his horse, and seriously injured, his left collar bone being broken. He hopes, nevertheles, to be able to return to New-York and resume his processional labors early in October. The accident was occasioned by a false step on the partof the horse, which precipitated the rider over his head. [Post.

REAL ESTATE .- The following sale of real estate at auction, September 22, 1858, was made by Adrian II. Muller: One two-story frame house, and lot, on Seaston street, near Goerck, 20x70, $2,175.

ARREST OF ALLEGED ACCESSORIES TO A MURDER .-Yesterday morning Sergeant Castle, of the Twentieth Precinct, arrested Wm. Boyman and Margaret, his wife, and a woman named Mary Ann McMahon, charged with being accessories to the murder of Ann McMahon, who was shot while in the hall of her residence, at Newark, N. J., a few nights ago, the parliculars of which have been already published in THE TRIBUNE. The parties above mentioned were traced to this city by the Newark police, who caused their arrest. They were yesterday morning taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court, thence to Justice Weish's Court, and were subsequently sent to Newark

SUPPOSED WIFE MURDER .- We stated a few was arrested for shooting at one James Stephens with intent to kill him. The prisoner stated that he had come to this country purposely to shoot Stephens, because Stephens had murdered his wife, who was the prisoner's aunt, and afterward seduced his (prisoner's) sister, who was living at the time in Stephens's house. Since then new developments have been made in the case. On Tuesday afternoon, Misses Fanny and Sophia Bell, the sisters of the prisoner, appeared before Justice Welsh and made affidavits diciosing a remarkable tale, which, if true, shows that are stephens was deliberately poisoned by her husband. Stephens is arrested, and his examination on the foregoing charges was postponed until 2 o'clock this afternoon. In the meantime, the remains of Mrs. Stephens will be exhumed, and an examination made under the direction of Coroner Connery, with a view of discovering, if possible, the trace of any poisonous substance that may have been administered to her by her husband. The accused was sent to the Tombs, to await the result of the investigation.

Suicipe by Hanging .- On the 26th of last July, Christian Schroder, a German, and his family, being unable to support themselves, were transferred to Ward's Island, to be provided for at public expense. Some time since Schroder expressed great anxiety to return to his native country, and some benevolent per sons had taken it upon them to raise the necessar funds for that purpose. Schroder, notwithstanding all that had been done for him, feared that he would never see Germany again, and was heard to say, that If he was out of the way his family might be sent back. It was not thought, however, that he intended to kill himself. The unhappy man was missing on Tuesday morning, and late in the day he was found suspended from a tree on a remote part of the Island, and quite dead. Coroner Hills held an inquest on his remains. A verdict of death by suicide by hanging was rendered by the Jury. No cause can be as gned for the act. unless he thought that his family would be returned to Germany if he was dead. He seemed not to have faith that he would ever go back himself. The deceased was 46 years of age.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT .- About 9 o'clock on Wedne day morning, Mr. Stephen Lundigan, residing in Brooklye and doing business in New-York, was killed by being run over by the cars at the foot of Atlantic street. Brooklyn. He was a young man, and lived at the corper of Smith and Dean streets. He was crossing the track after the locomotive had been detached, and in his haste to get over he caught his foot and fell. He was admonished not to attempt to cross, but rushed alread and thus lost his life. Eye-witnesses say that the company are not at all to blame.

DEATH FROM DROWNING .- Coroner Hills yesterday held an inquest at pier No. 44, North River, on the body of James Murphy, late fireman on board the Meamship Vigo, who was drowned on the 14th instant in consequence of falling overboard while in a state of on. The Jury rendered a verdict of death by accidental drowning. Murphy was 41 years of descent upon the premises No. 1,154 Broadway, kept by James Celbert, and alleged to be a disorderly house and resort for pickpockets, burglars, and this ves generally, and dissolute and disorderly characters. The house is a small frame one, having a barroom in front, and rear rooms, in which it is said that thieves and burglars congregate at all hours of the day and night to talk over and mature their plans of operation. It is located near the junction of Broadway and Sixth avenue, and complaints in regard to the disorderly nature of the place have frequently been made to the police. On the night in question, Capt. Curry with his men proceeded quietly to the house, and after sur-rounding the premises with a portion of his force, suddeply entered the place at the head of the remainder and took all the inmates by surprise. Among those present were a number of desperate thieves, who made a rush for secret doors with a view of escaping. but had no sooner gained the open air before they were taken into custody. Every one found on the premise was arrested and taken to the Station-House, and locked up for the remainder of the night. The prisoners gave their names as James Colbert, Aun Colbert, his wife, Robert J. Patterson, George Thompson, Joseph Harris, alias John Kearney, Joseph Huff or Hough, William Duffy, John M. Weeks, alias Allen James Rodgers, Michael Cadell, Thomas Cochran Wm. Holmes, Samuel Simpton, Terrence Gill, alias Geo. Stanley, Sylvester Devine, Mary Howe and Peter Quinn. The prisoners having been disposed of, Capt. Curry, with one or two of his men, returned and searched the house, and found in Colbert's room a quantity of cloths, essemeres and other property, valued at $30, all of which was supposed to have been stelen. In another room was found several sets of burglars' tools, which, with the property found in Colbert's spartments, were taken to the Police Station.

Yesterday morning the prisoners were arraigned by fore Justice Quackenbush at the Jefferson Market Police Court, and dispossed of in the following manner:

Police Court, and disposed of in the following Rebert J. Pattersen, $600 to keep the peace. Goe. Thompson, $500 to keep the peace. Harris, alies Kearney, $41,000 to keep the peace. Harris, alies Kearney, $41,000 to keep the peace. Joseph Huff, $41,000 to keep the peace. Win. Duffy, committed to prison for examination. Weeks, alias Allen, $1,000 to keep the peace. Jos. Redgers, $500 to keep the peace. Michael Cadell, reprinsanded and discharged. Thomas Cochran, reprinsanded and discharged. William Holmes, $4,000 to keep the peace. Semi. Simpson, committed for examination. Gill, alias Stanley, $4,000 to keep the peace. Sylvester Devine, reprinsanded and discharged. Mary Howe, reprinsanded and discharged. Ann Colbert, committed for examination.

Mr. Wm. Petit of No. 148 West Thirty-sixth street appeared at the Court and identified the property found in Colbert's room, as a portion of his stock, and tolen from his tailoring establishment on the night of the 16th inst., during the confusion incident to a fire in the neighborhood of his place. In default of the required bail, the parties were committed to prison. Several of them are said to be notorious characters, and will no doubt be identified as the perpetrators of some of the burglaries recently committed in the upper part of the city.

ARREST OF SHOPLIFTERS .- Officer McDougal of the Detective force, while perambulating Broadway on Monday afternoon, espied a couple of women whose movements appeared suspicious, and therefore followed them from place to place until they entered a dwelling house in Baxter street. After satisfying himself that it was the abode of one or both of them, Officer McDougal took a glance at the Rogues' Gallery and there found the likeness of one of the suspected parties, and then, in company of Officer Farley, entered the house in question, and on the women derying that they had been on Broadway that day, the officers proceeded to search the premises, and found two pieces of silk goods, respecting which the women gave very unsatisfactory statements. They were, therefore, taken into custody on suspicion of having stolen the property from some store which they had visited; and it was subsequently ascertained that one of the pieces of silk, valued at $30, had been purloined from the establishment of Edward Lambert & Co. of No. 335 Broadway. The accused were taken before Justice Welsh, who committed them to answer in default of $1,500 bail.

ARREST OF A DESPERADO.-Yesterday morning & German woman, named Mrs. Mary Hays, living in the tenement house No. 199 Second street, was attacked by George Simon, a resident of the same house, and stabbed in the head and neck in a dangerous manner. It appears that Mrs. Hays was in the yard at the time, procuring a pail of water, when Simon, for some cason or other, commenced abusing her in a scandalou manner, calling her vile names. Mrs. Hays became so indignant that she seized a broom and aimed a blow at the head of Simon, the soft part of the broom striking him in the face. Without further cause or provoca tion Simon drew a knife and attacked the poor woman in a ferocious manner, inflicting three wounds on the top of the head, and stabbing her in the left side of the neck. In the latter wound the knife passed below the clevicle, and penetrated the left lobe of the lungs.

The loud screams of Mrs. Hays attracted the attention of other occupants of the house, and John Herman and his wife went to her assistance. Upon their attempting to interfere Simon turned upon Mrs. Herman and cut her over the head twice inflicting severe scalp wounds. He also attacked Mr. Herman, stabbing him in the shoulder. Simon then ran into the house and succeeded in effecting his escape. Havs was attended by a surgeon who expressed doubts as to her recovery, the wound in the neck being very

A few days ago the wife of Simon removed her furniture to three different places, establishing in neither place a fixed residence. Simon is still at large, and it is supposed that he is concealed somewhere in the lower part of the Ward. He is, how ever, well known, and cannot long escape arrest. The parties are all German, and unable to speak but little English. The cause of the difficulty has not yet transpired. It is said that Simon was intoxicated at

CHARGED WITH ROBBING HIS FRIEND .- Yesterday morning oue Stilman H. Weeks was arrested charged with stealing $63 in bills from Capt. Wm. Brower, of the sloop Emblem, of Babylon, L. I., lying at the foot of 31st-street, E. R. Capt, Brower alleges that Weeks was present on Tuesday night when the money was him, and that the accused saw him hide it away n the cabin. Soon after the Captain went away on an errand, leaving Weeks in charge of the vessel. After an absence of twenty or thirty minutes he returned and met Weeks in the dock, when the latter told him that the vessel had been robbed. Both went on board and found everything in the cabin in great confusion and the money gone. Capt. B. forthwith charged Weeks with the robbery and had him arrested. The Magistrate before whom he was taken, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, held him for examina

ROBBING THE BLIND,-Mr. Alfred Holmes of Delavan, Tazwell County, Ill., aged 27 years, who has been blind for the last 22 years, arrived in this city about three weeks ago, on his way to Europe, for the purpose of placing himself in some of the Institutions there, with a view of endeavoring to recover his eyesight. He put up at the Girard House, and before the following morning, his trunk was broken open and robbed of $2,035, the entire amount which he possessed, and had appropriated to defray his expenses abroad. The matter was placed into the hands of Officer Devoe. for the special attention of that detective.

BROOKLYN ITEMS.

CONVENTION OF THE SABBATH-SCHOOL TEACHERS' Association .- The Sabbath-School Teachers of the State of New-York, and all others friendly to the cause, are invited to convene in the Pierrepont-street Paptist Church, in the City of Brooklyn, on Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 10 o'clock a. m. After organizing the Convention, the remainder of Tuesday will be spent in hearing the reports from the County Secretaries. Wednesday morning and afternoon will be occupied in discussing topics which will be brought before the Convention, and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings addresses will be delivered by several distinguished gentlemen who feel a deep interest in the Sabbathschool cause. On Thursday morning the discussion of topics will be continued, and the business of the Convention close. On Thursday afternoon the Sabbath schools of Brooklyn will assemble in several of the city churches, under the direction of the Committee on Public Meetings of the Board of Managers of the Brooklyn Sunday-school Union, and will be addressed by members of the Convention; appropriate hymns will be sung by the children. There will be a meeting for devotional exercises each day from 9 to 10 s. m.

EAST NEW-YORK .- Since the completion of the Fulton-avenue line of railroad to East New-York, great improvements have been carried out and commenced in that place. From present indications it bids fair to become one of the most populous villages in the neighborhood of the city. One of the evidences of the goahead spirit which has recently been evinced there, is the publication of a weekly newspaper, entitled The East New-York Journal, issued by Mr. George W. Cobb. A Literary Society, which was organized last Winter is now in a very flourishing condition, and on the resumption of the regular meetings on the first Tuesday in October, a large accession of members will be made. Nearly 1,000 pascengers are daily conveyed to and from East New-York.

"COFFEE AND PISTOLS FOR Two."-The editor of one of the Flushing (L. I.) journals, we hear, stands a chance of being called to the field to give " that satis-"faction which one gentleman demands of another," and which is recognized by the code of honor. The umbrage was occasioned by the appearance of an article in the paper signed "Curmudgeon," which made some reference to the affairs of an association not altogether complimentary to the challenging party, who was a member of the Society in question. The knight of the quill and scissors was suspected of being the author of the item, and at the next meeting the offended party called the attention of the members to the article, and expressed hisbelief that it was written by the "Old stick-in-the-mud himself;" whereupon the editor retaliated by publishing the offensive matter which elicited the challenge. Considerable fun is expected to be the result.

TEST CASES UNDER THE EXCISE LAW—SELLISG
LIQUOR WITHOUT A LICENSE.

Roard of Excise Commissioners agt. Thomas W. Hughes.
Hughes is proprietor of a liquor saloon called the Wyoming House, at No. 333 Greenwich street. The sait is brought by the Excise Commissioners, under the new license of excise law, to recover the penalty for five violations of the law, by selling without a license, amounting in all to $259, which is the extent of the jurisdiction of the Court. The form of proceding is the same as in the Court of Common Pleas. The case came up this morning, when counsel for defendant made a preliminary motion that the complaint be made more desinite and certain, contending that the names of persons to whom liquor ind been sold should have been specified. The Coursel for the Commissioners replied that the Court of Common Pleas had siready decided that the complaint was sufficient. Justice Staatreserved his decision until to-motrow morning. William M Keag, attorney for the Commissioners, George W. Stevent.

A similar action was commenced at the same time against Alex. Contigna, who keeps a saloon at the corner of Bioceket and Morton streets, but it was postponed until the 4th of October, for the convenience of course.

These are regarded as test cases, being the first which have come up for trial under the law within this examt. The fines, if any be recovered, will, under the provisions of the Excise law, have to be paid over to the Courty Treasurer, for the support of the poor of the county. The sites are for alonged violations of the law prior to Sept. 9, and if successful will not debar the bringing of suits for subsequent infractions.

William Somers was then placed on trial for murder. On May 20 the ship Mandarin was juing in the East River, of Wall street, when a quarrel grose between John B. Aitera, second mate, and the defendant Somers. Alkens tried to pull Somers out of his berth to make him do duty on deck, when the latter stabbed him with a dirk knife in six places. Alkens trished on deck from the forecastle, where the assault took place, and died in a few minutes. The defense was that Somers acted only in self-pro-tection, matching the knife from Aikera, with which be intended to stab Somers. The case was adjourned till to-morrow, for the summing up of countel.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 22 -P. M. The movements in Pacific Mail and Rock Island and Chicago continue to be the features of the market, the changes in other Stocks being unimportant. Under free purchasing Pacific Mail advanced to-day to par, and at the close even higher would probably have been paid. The buying appears to be for investmeet, and based upon the very prosperous condition of the Company. A fifteen or twenty ? cent dividend is confidently looked for in November, leaving still a large surplus. The shorts have suffered severely in this Stock recently. The reaction which was expected to follow the resetablishment of the Nicaragoa line has not been experienced. Panama does not, as would naturally be expected, sympathize with Pacific Mail, by advancing, but but is in demand and very firm at 113. There is a rumor that the dividends of this Company will be increased hereafter, but we can find no go foundation for it. Rock Island was not active, and had rather an improving appearance at the Board, closing at 661, but between the Boards there was a quasi panic, and the stock fell off to 651. The fact that the figures of this road, published a few days ago in THE Tarause, showed an increase in capital stock of about $300,000 was used by the bears to depress the stock. This increase, however, took place in July and August of last year, and the stock was issued, $200,000, for the payment of equipage, &c., contracted for in 1856-57. The remaining $100,000 has not yet been issued. It will be kept to meet any special necessity of the Company. This will complete the $7,000,000 of stock and bonds to which these items were limited by the resolutions of December, 1856. The Company retains stock enough to redeem the outstanding bonds whenever the bondholders call for it. New-York Central was firm in the morning and advanced to 78j, but between Boards was hammered down to 77%. It afterwend railied and closed at 77; 378. Of their local unsecured indebtedness, not more than $1,000, it is said, is to business men of the District of Columbia.

The Boston Post, in its money article, remarks: There is absolutely nothing new in money matters. Very prime paper is taken at as low rates as ever, say 5 4 cent. For call loans there is less disposition to accept of extremely low rates. The market, upon the whole, is a shade less dull than it was a few weeks ago, and abundant as money is, both in the banks and State street, there is less pressure of large ums upon borrowers.

The share market is a very limited one at present, sith considerable strength but little activity. It is with considerable strength but little activity. It is understood that the business of the railways is improving somewhat. Most of the banks will probably sustain their accustomed dividends, although the half year's earnings, with many of them, are less than is unal. Manufactoring shares are held at improving figures, but there is no strong liking for them at any price. The probabilities, however, are greatly in tavor of the various companies doing a fine business for years to come. As to land shares, there are constant bids for "Cary," and occasionally a lot of "Last Recton" is put upon the street. The price of meither bears any sort of relation to the intrinsic or even market value of the property represented. We should be willing to wager that a share of either is worth more, and will righteously yield more, than a share of several of the distant railoads more or less fashionable in this market, and upheld by public inflashare of several of the distant railoads more or less fashionable in this market, and upheld by public influence. As to management, the advantage is altogether on the side of our land stocks. Nobody can run off with the lands; and as they owe nothing, and need nothing, there is no chance of their issuing Bands at 75 to pay debts at 100, to say nothing of large dividends;

In copper shares, the bulls and bears are principally devoting themselves to Pewabic and Rockland. The former advanced a little at the close of the week from the demand of the shorts, a temporary scarcity of stock, and the idea of somebody that the shares were really cheap. The bears admit the mine to be a wonderful one, but they say it will fall short of 400 tuns this year—that its expenditures are and must be necessarily heavy for some time—and that by next Spring, a burdensome debt will be created, requiring large assessments for their liquidation. On the other hand, the bulls aver that the mine will yield 400 tuns, and will fully pay all debts and current expenses from the enormous product of 1859, estimated at 800 tuns on the ground of the success of Ball's machinery.

As to Rockland, the discovery of a mass may check In copper shares, the bulls and bears are principally

A WEEKLY REVIEW

NEW-YORK DRY GOODS MARKET. For the work ending Wednesday evening, Sept. 11, 1856.

We have not ced less notivity with the distributing bouses the past week, indicating that the heavies trade of the season is over, although there are many buyers in the market. The trade on the whole has beer satisfactory, but irregular, and less equally die tributed than in former scaoons. Many of the leading houses have been relieved of the large stocks held at the coromeocoment of the season, and are at present preparing for the later Autumn trade. The gradual hardening of certain styles of goods has led to some large contracts to the manufacturers, for future delivery. The heavy clothing bouses are in the market, making up their stock, and we notice a better demand for goods in that department. The collections from the West are more satisfactory; the recent advance in some of their products affords a botter prospect for the future, although it will be a long time ore they fully recover from the rembarrassments It has been so often remarked that our production is the cause of the depression of our manufactures, that some have been led to believe that it is an evil which cannot be remedied. They have supposed that ev have a larger number of looms than could be profit-ably employed, and that the interest is so extended that no concert of action among manufacturers was possible. The reverse is the fact. The interest is relatively small. The valuation of all the cotton spindies in New-England is less than the prime cost of those great competing railways. Erie and Central. Yet, as it gives employment to thousands, and its depression affects, in a greater or less degree, almost every other branch of injustry, it appears more colos sal than it really is. We have heretofore assumed that a diversification of manufactures would remove the cause. This involves the idea not only of practical skill and talent in manufacturing goods, but also a barmonious action, based on information and knowledge, which cannot be attained except through as association established for that purpose.

This association, with a concentration of action necessary to accomplish any important result, with an organization similar to that which has been so long established in Manchester, Bradford and Leeds, would not only correct many of the evils of our present aye tem, but would ultimately place the whole manufacturing interest on a more permanent basis, and thus secure us measurably against those periodical changes which we suffer. It would afford information respect-ing the quality and quantity of goods required, and manufacturers could adapt their looms to any given fab-ric, with advantage to themselves, and not ruin the busi-ness of others; thus doing away with a ruinous home competition, which has proved as disastrous as foreign competition. Accurate reports respecting all competing markets would call the attention of the manufactures to certain styles of goods which can be produced on or present machinery, but are at this time supplied by the fereign manufacturer. The law of supply and demand is never realized by the manufacturer, but the results of an overstocked market are felt long after the immediate cause has ceased.

Drillings. The private letters from China, by the Persia, state that the news of the treaty was not generally credited in Canton, and in view of large shipments of Drille from this country, the price was not maintained, and tions have been made here by outside speculators, but the experters have not confidence to operate largely. We quote heavy 30-inch 2.80-40 ps. Drill at Sic.; 27-inch Drills are selling moderately for home

Brown Sheetings and Shirtings.

37-inch heavy Sheetings, 48x52, 2.80 yards to the pound, are held at 8je., 6 mos., which is an improveent. Light Sheetings of all counts, 38 to 40 in wide, are in great demand for "conversion," and not he manufacturer 15 P cent more than heavy goods. An important item in the net cost of manufacturing goods was omitted by one of our cotemporaries in his estimate of yesterday. It is well known that every careful manufacturer, who would have his balan sheet accurate, carries 10 F cent on the cost of his machinery yearly into his expense account, as it would be worthless at the end of that time.

Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings. The demand for these goods continues. The vance already noticed is well maintained, and fabricante are asking still higher rates. Three years since 72x80 Cloths sold readily at 10ic. V yard. Large importations were made, which reduced the price to 8ic. Cotton has advanced since that time so much as to in crease the cost of production Ic. P yard, and the impertation of the article bas ceased entirely, yet the goods have never fully recovered, and we quote them at 9ic. to 9ic. Three-quarters and i Bicached Cottons are in brisk demand.

Cotton Flannels

Are firm and wanted. We hear of a large sale to one house yesterday of 300 cases. Bleached Flannels are very scarce. The printers are still producing Cloakings, which are readily taken at full rates. Duck.

Cotton Duck continues in active demand at former

Cotton Ravens.—The demand is limited, the trade for the season being nearly over.

Printing Cloths. Printing Cloths are dull. The stock on hand of low count clothe is small, but the higher grade goods are accumulating. These goods advanced too rapidly, and the deliness of the wide goods market induced many manufacturers to turn their attention to narrow goods. Over-production is having its appropriate effect: 62x64 cannot be imported at less cost than 54c. Wyard. Yet their goods are selling at 5jc., and if the stock increases the price will be still lower. We learn, however, that the activity in bleached goods has already changed the product of many looms. quote the Providence market:
